Montevideo, March 23rd,

The new Government has issued the following very important Manifesto which has created a sensation in the public:—

To the people,

The Government being now constituted with the new Ministry organized, it believes it its duty to address the People, making a frank and loyal manifestation of the purposes which will guide its policy during the present constitutional period. The Government does not shirk the grave responsibility it has assumed, but imperious public reasons have imposed upon it the obligation of accepting it as a paramount duty, to obtain the moral and material progress of the nation by the faithful observance of the constitution and the practice of its institutions.

The principles of morality and justice, fundamental basis of the system which governs us, and the only guide of the Government of the people for the people, will regulate the acts of the Government in all matters concerning individual guarantee, liberty, security and property. Education, Commerce, Industry Agriculture and Immigration will be firmly attended to.

I will endeavour to tighten the cordial relations which happily exist between the state and foreign powers. Towards the accomplishment of these views the Government counts upon the valuable aid of the honourable General Assembly, but requires also the co-operation of all, and it expects the aid of their patriotism and talents. From this patriotic work none are excluded, it being both the right and the duty of all, and because we are under the protection of the law and the public authority empowered to apply it.

If the Government be seconded in its loyal purposes, the peace which the country happily enjoys, through the efforts of the Government of Colonel Latorre, will be productive of good results of every kind, and will be the foundation of the prosperity of the republic. This is the great object of the Government. Montevideo, March 22nd, 1880.

A great speculation is going on here buying up all the cotton goods in first hands. This, and the expectation of the Custom-house duties being raised, brings about a very active despatch in the Custom House, to which the large number of carts arriving from the country districts, in search of winter supplies, contributes.

REMARKABLE BANKRUPTCY.

The failure of Juan B. Migone, when it occurred, was a surprise to the market; but the revelations made by the Comercio del Plata, respecting the fees attempted to be charged by the lawyers employed by Mr Scotto, the bankrupt's assignee, have proved a still greater surprise to merchants.

It appears that the syndico or trustee of the bankrupt estate, Mr Vicente Scotto, held the position for fifteen months, on the expiration of which, Judge Dimet removed him, whereupon Scotto's lawyer made a claim upon the estate for half a million paper dollars, which was a charge so enormous that it was immediately reduced to 280,000 m|c. by Judge Noguera. The new syndico, Mr Trelles, considering the fee still much too large, has appealed to the Camara, and it appears a second lawyer of Scotto, the removed trustee, has come forward and made a claim for his fee of 150,000 m|c. It certainly can be no longer a matter of surprise that the failure in question has proved so ruinous for the creditors, when we find that the syndico or trustee, Scotto, has employed two lawyers whose combined fees, we believe, would exhaust all the assets; and to increase the mismanagement and extravagance of the syndic, a third lawyer has come forward who claims on the estate for his fee, 500,000 m|c, making in all for the three lawyers three quarters of a million of dollars, charged for fees in a fifteen months' administration of a bankrupt estate that certainly could not afford to pay for lawyers fees over 5,000 paper dollars. The fight of the lawyers for the payment of their enormous fees will, indeed, prove a lesson to the commerce of Buenos Ayres; and Judge Dimet, who appears to have acted so well in the matter, has settled the fees of two of the lawyers, giving to the one, whose fee amounted to 100,000 m|c., 25,000 m|c., and to the other, whose fee was charged 150,000 m|c., the sum of 20,000 m|c.; the claim of the third lawyer for 500,000 m|c. has gone up on appeal to the Camara, and will probably be reduced to 25,000 m|c., yet, even this adjustment of these fees seems to surpass every estimate for legal services in the winding up of a bankrupt estate. The reduced estimate we have made, still amounts to 70,000 m|c., say £500, for lawyers' fees in the short term of 15 months on a bankrupt's estate that, we believe, will not pay to the creditors 5s. in the £; and it must be remembered that we have to add to the lawyers' charges the fee allowed by law to the syndic, Mr Scotto. There is, it appears, a certain sum belonging to the bankrupt estate deposited in the Provincial Bank, and this sum, instead of being distributed amongst the unfortunate creditors has to be divided amongst the lawyers.

It is seldom that we are called upon to discuss a more disgraceful blot on our commercial jurisprudence. Merchants may well look with horror on the suspension of a trader, when such cases as Migone's form a precedent in this market; and things have come to a pretty pass when the winding up of the estate of a bankrupt wholesale grocer costs more in the River Plate than to wind up the City of Glasgow Bank.

About a year ago an atttempt was made in this market to start a society of lawyers, who would at a fixed and moderate tariff wind up a bankruptcy or a 'testamentaria,' and thus save the creditors or the heirs from those inordinate charges which the lawyers seem to think they are at liberty to make. Only a few years ago there was a great noise made in the papers about the extravagant charges for the winding up of a 'testamentaria.' It was asserted that a large 'testamentaria' falling into the hands of any of our prominent lawyers was of itself a fortune to the lawyer for life; and the grievance was so much complained of that people who held property made such provisions that at their death they would leave nothing and thus defeat the lawyers, who by their monstrous charges became the real heirs to the properties of the deceased owners: then, if we recollect aright, notices appeared in the papers from 'procuradores' and others, offering to wind up 'testamentarias' at certain fixed charges. With the case of Migone before us, it seems that we require similar notices now from the 'procuradores' and lawyers for the winding up of bankrupt estates; and the notices might specify, by way of a scale of charges, that where formerly $500,000 m|c was the fee, now $1,000 m|c will be the charge. On this basis it is probable that creditors can afford to name syndics to wind up bankrupt estates. But in the absence of some such reforms, the creditors are left no other alternative than to abandon everything to the bankrupt, to wind up or carry on as best he may think fit.

The Britannia's Mails.

London, Feb. 27th.

The House of Lords met last evening as usual, but the business was of an unimportant character.

In the Commons the Chancellor of the Exchequer proposed his motion with reference to the order of debate, and it was supported by the Marquis of Hartington on behalf of the Liberal party generally. A debate ensued, which occupied the whole evening, and was adjourned.

Uneasiness is increasing, rather than subsiding, at St. Petersburg, our correspondent telegraphs, and all classes appear to be seriously disquieted with the idea that the Revolutionists have prepared some plot which is likely to endanger the lives of the general public. The Nihilists do all in their power to increase the alarm.

From accounts that have reached our Paris correspondent from St. Petersburg it appears that a terrible catastrophe is expected on March 2nd next, when the so-called rejoicings take place. On Tuesday last, it is stated, upwards of twelve policemen were murdered in the Russian capital, and on each corpse was found a roll of paper inscribed with the Russian words signifying 'Justice to the people.'

The office of Governor-General of St. Petersburg is shortly to be replaced by a Commission of Supreme Control under the independent direction of Count Loris Melikoff, who will be invested with the largest powers, with the object of taking energetic measures for putting a stop to revolutionary machinations.

Categorical denials are semi-officially given in telegrams of yesterday's date from St. Petersburg in regard to a number of statements made in foreign newspapers with respect to the late attempt to blow up the Winter Palace, and to subsequent events. No arrests, it is affirmed, have been made within the Palace, nor is there any foundation for the report that wholesale arrests have been made in St. Petersburg.

According to a statement which appears in yesterday's Bozener Zeitung, the Castle of Stametz, near Meran, in the Tyrol, has been let to the Emperor of Russia, who, with the Empress, will probably arrive there early in the spring.

A Golos telegram reports the movement of the Persian army on Herat.

Several telegrams were yesterday received by the Duke of Edinburg, at Berlin, from the Duchess of Edinburg, in St. Petersburg.

Yesterday's North German Gazette publishes an article referring to one which appeared in its columns on Monday last on the subject of the defensive disposition of the military forces in Germany. It again argues that aggression against her neighbours Russia and France is wholly unintended by Germany, who is simply seeking to place her frontiers in a reasonable condition of defence.

A Greek, claiming to be an English subject, has been arrested at Constantinople, on account of being found in possession of twelve bombs and a quantity of dynamite. He at first stated that he had contemplated an attack upon the Sultan, but afterwards retracted that statement.

An invitation has been sent by the Porte to M. Condouriotis, the Greek Minister, to resume negotiations on the frontier question.

Intelligence has been received at Constantinople from Diarbekir that terrible distress is prevailing among the inhabitants of that district, thousands of hunger-stricken peasants arriving in the town daily in quest of food.

M. Outre has applied for a concession for the construction of a railway in Asia Minor, and, as an inducement, has offered the Porte a considerable advance of money.

Though no decision had, as far as our Paris correspondent was aware, been taken by the French Government in regard to the man Hartmann down to last night, there was practically no doubt that Hartmann would be given up.

After an animated debate, the American Senate, upon a strictly party vote, has decided in favour of repealing the law declaring ex-Confederates ineligible to serve in the United States army.

Unpledged delegates are to be sent by the Vermont Republican Convention to the National Convention at Chicago.

Much alarm is being caused in the city of San Francisco by the menaces of Kearney's party against the Chinese, and also against the authorities who seek to prevent the Chinamen from being attacked.

At a meeting of the Middlesex magistrates, yesterday, the Hon. E. C. Curzon, in pursuance of notice given, moved a resolution affirming the Court's disapproval of exhibitions dangerous to life or limb being given at places of public entertainment licensed by the magistrates. After considerable discussion, the motion was unanimously adopted.

At the Woolwich Police-court, yesterday, Gounem Salim, an Egyptian, servant to Prince Ibrahim Pasha, son of the Khedive, was bound over in £5 to keep the peace for three months, on the complaint of an English girl, parlourmaid at the residence of the Prince, near the Royal Military Academy.

The retirement of Mr. Allport from the post of general manager of the Midland Railway, which he has so long and successfully occupied, has been made the occasion of a presentation which is, we believe, without parallel in the history of railways. The shareholders of the Company, at their meeting on Tuesday, made Mr. Allport a gift of £10,000, and elected him one of the directors of their line in succession to the late Mr. Ellis. Such a recognition of long and successful services is as honourable to those who make it as to him who receives it. Mr. Allport has been something more than one of the most successful railway managers in the kingdom. He has been the chief founder of the fortunes of the Midland Railway. Twenty-seven years ago the Midland was a mere group of branch lines; it is now one of the largest of our great railway undertakings. It has been distinguished moreover for its enterprise, not merely in stretching out its hands to London in one direction, and to the Scottish Border in the other, but in offering new conveniences and attractions to travellers. The system of booking third-class passengers by every train was one of the boldest of railway innovations when the Midland first startled the railway world by making it; but probably all the great companies are now agreed that it is the basis of very much of their prosperity. The adoption of improved methods and appliances in which the Midland has been foremost is also a part of the same policy. In all this extension of the convenience and usefulness of the railway system Mr. Allport has had a large share. The public will see in his election to the Midland Board an additional pledge that the popular system of administration adopted on that line will undergo no change.

Yesterday a severe fall occurred in the Stock Markets. Russian bonds were pressed for sale, and closed at a decline ranging from 1 to 2½ per cent. Argentine, Egyptian Hungarian, and Turkish Defence were also considerably lower. The reduction in most of the Home railways was 1, to about 2, Brighton 'A' being especially heavy. Consols were 1-16 to ⅛ worse at 98 1-16 for money, 98⅛, ¼ for the account. A favourable Bank return, however, was issued, the proportion being 50⅛ per cent.

The greatest alarm exists in Europe about the threatening war between Germany and Russia. We extract the following from the London papers received per Britannia:—

The Russo-German estrangement being steadily developed, it may not be altogether superfluous briefly to recount what has led to the present strained relations.

When aiming at omnipotence in the Balkan Peninsula two years ago Prince Gortschakoff imperilled Germany in two separate ways. By excluding Austria from the East he threw her back upon Germany and endeavoured to revive the ancient rivalry between Hapsburg and Hohenzollern; while by his attempt to accomplish Eastern designs without German support he practically severed existing ties, and left this country to shift for itself in the event of an attack by France. In other words, he did all in his power to force Austria to recover her ancient position in the Germanic Realm, and to invite France to engage in a 'guerre de revanche.' Finding himself prospectively placed between two fires, Prince Bismarck, with equal sagacity and resolve, turned the tables upon the enterprising Gortschakoff, and by supporting Austria in the East not only made a possible adversary an ally but also rendered it more difficult for France to indulge in martial propensities. The world is not likely to forget the outburst of Russian rage and fury that preceded and ensued this piece of Bismarck's strategy. While diplomatic bitterness vented itself in the stupendous phenomena of Prince Gortschakoff personally calling France to arms, national hatred was strikingly displayed in the attacks the Russian press were instructed to hurl against Germany.

The recent alarming articles in the Berlin Government journals have created a great sensation here, as being more or less threatening to the maintenance of peace. Especial attention has been given to the article in the North German Gazette recalling the fact that Count Milutine, the Russian War Minister, is among the friends of the Nihilist movement. The apprehensions to which these articles have given rise have tended to dispel the idea that the late attempt upon the Czar will produce a 'rapprochement' between Russia and her Western neighbours. Such a 'rapprochement', it is asserted, can only be established between the several Courts.

LATEST FROM THE BOCA.

The so-styled Leon di Caprera, built under the superintendence of her owner and Captain, Vincent Fondacaro, is a tiny craft of 3½ tons burden: of 7½ feet beam, 27 feet long and 3 feet deep, and is really beautifully finished off as regards her lines &c. She is rigged as a schooner without gaffs, and carries jib, foresail, stay-sail, square-sail, two gaff-tops and main-sail. The water she draws is 2½ feet. The principal woods employed in her building are cinnamon, walnut, cedar and algaroba. Her deck is picked out with pine and walnut wood alternately; the rudder is of cherry wood.

The most wonderful part connected with this little craft is her floating anchors, invented by her skipper, to keep the boat's head steady in a gale of wind. They are formed in the shape of a cone, and of canvas, and then, after being filled with water, are, by means of a stout hawser, let out at the bow to a distance of 20 fathoms. In this manner, the boat in a storm is always head to the wind.

Yesterday (Sunday) the Recreo was crowded with sight-seers, and our band, the 'Union de la Boca,' enlivened the scene by popular airs.

Captain Vincent Fondacaro is the pink of politeness, and also a very good linguist, speaking English almost as well as his native language (Italian). I saw a piece of poetry by him in English, on 'Fire,' which I hope soon to see in your columns. He hopes to make the voyage in about 2½ months, wind and weather permitting. The ballast used is the water for consumption, which he carries in various small kegs.

I recommend your subscribers and the English-speaking community in general to come down and have a look at the cockle-shell, as she is well worth inspection.

The German brig Elisa has entered.

The body of a man (supposed to have been murdered) was found this morning in the 'potrero' between General Brown Station and Gas Works, with one stab and three revolver shots. Name not known. Looks to be of English or German nationality.

S. AMERICAN LITERATURE.

Mr. Benjamin Vicuña Mackenna, the popular Chilian writer, has lately published two works bearing on Argentine affairs. With what pleasure the reader scans the pages of his 'Patagonia' and 'Metropolis of the Plate;' and to judge from the impressions they have caused here, it is quite clear that a few public writers on both sides of the Andes might easily foster the friendly feelings that are now dormant. Argentines are good-natured, and so are the Chilians, and a little coaxing on both sides would make them the best of friends. Mr. Benjamin Mackenna has always moved in this direction, and with 'amore' he portrays the good sides of the Argentine character and the rising prosperity and future greatness of the Argentine nation. This encomium on the Argentine Republic will open the eyes of many Chilians, and Argentines are already astonished at the impartiality displayed by the Chilian author. This generosity calls for an answer from the banks of the Plata, where both irritable and generous feelings are so easily roused. Some Miguel Cané must enter the field and break the ice between both nations.

The Nacional, in reviewing both works, has some very lucid remarks on Mr. Mackenna and the characters of Chilians and Argentines. There is a 'mania' of satire in the author's pen, when he alludes to the fact that the city, formerly of the Santa Trinidad, is now the capital 'par excellence' of heretics in America. The breezes, he says, on this side of the Andes are gales. Argentines are sceptical; they are Athenians, polished heretics and amiable revolutionist.

The Chilians are pious, in fact 'bon enfants.' The most positive proof of their devotion is the fact that 2,000 women were burnt in one church in Santiago. The figure 2,000 is exaggerated; only 1,900 of the fair sex were burnt. Devotion alone can account for this great number of victims and agglomeration of women. Pious feelings were strung to the utmost, and sensuousness was satisfied to the extent of 15,000 gas and candle lights, creating hallucinations in the 'devoteès;' the splendid choruses from the operas, the pious canticles, the human nerves vibrating to the chords of a powerful organ; the smoke arising from the incense, the eloquence of popular friars swaying all the delicate feelings of a feminine breast with maternal love, beatific visions and delightful supernatural mysticism: all this tended to enhance the usual great devotion. Besides, over a thousand ladies, huddled together, transmitted to each other, by the contact, glance and appearance, a general pious trance. When the fire broke out, and those near the altar saw no more help left them, the lady at the top, with tears in her eyes and a thrilling heart, moved that all should kneel down and pray fervently. In a nook near the altar knelt a countrywoman, a San Juanina, who with devotion also combined some mundane sentiments. The spirited girl thought it far better to try to escape than kneel down and confide in Providence. She cast her eyes in anguish to the windows, but there was no hope; the doors were intercepted by a human mass struggling in vain to get out. The San Juanina suddenly turned, jumped upon a stout old lady and made her way out over a road paved with human heads,

The devotees inside were all burnt. Devotion is very good when not pushed too far, and it would be most fortunate if heresy was the greatest Argentine defect; but, fortunately, we are not all heretics.

As regards our gales and hurricanes, they are the true reflection of our character and political strife. Garay was right, nevertheless, when, sniffing the pampero zephyrs, he said, "Que buenos aires son los de esta tierra."

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The mails by the Pacific Company's steamer Britannia were delivered yesterday. The latest date from London is the 27th of February. The news is of high importance. The London papers seem to consider war inevitable between Russia and Germany, and are already describing for the public the probable points at which Germany will invade the Colossus of the North. The great question is, will France join Russia? and the prevailing opinion is that she will not, at least in the outset. The London Standard says that Germany is a match for France and Russia combined. Meanwhile Italy is getting alarmed at the rumour that Bismarck has agreed to let Austria do as she pleases with Italy—Redenta or Irredenta—and the Roman War Office has ordered the frontiers to be fortified on the Austrian boundary. Things in Russia are going from bad to worse, and the Nihilists now openly threaten to blow up or burn the whole of St. Petersburg. The Czar has taken a chateau in the Tyrol, and given General Melikoff such extraordinary power to deal with the Nihilists that all Europe is astonished. The General is now virtually the Czar of All the Russias. From the East the news is that the redoubtable King of Burmah is confining himself strictly to a purely whiskey diet, and again murdering his relatives by the dozen. The news from Italy is that emigration has now reached such a pass (130,000 souls per annum) that the Roman Government is seriously alarmed and is about to take severe measures to check it. As well try to empty the ocean with a teaspoon.

The great news from Montevideo yesterday was President Vidal's manifesto. See O'Gorman's telegram. Nothing disagreeable has yet occurred, but all accounts agree that the Czar is not more helpless in Russia than President Vidal will be if any revolutionary fun begins. All point to Santos as the coming man; but if there be a row, 'todos los Santos' will be unable to save poor B. C. from Blue Ruin, on the road to which she is but too probably about to start at full gallop.

The 'Standard' Gin Palace, in Calle San Martin, was broken into and sacked on Monday night: all the cognac, caña, beer, brandy and Burgundy was either carried off by the burglars or drunk on the premises: there was a rumour that the thieves also found a small sum of money, but we rather think they didn't.

'Eight inches' is the answer to the conundrum in yesterday's issue. It does not appear to have excited much curiosity or enthusiasm, as not a single attempt at answering it has reached us. One party who guessed it in our office declared it was a hand to mouth affair.

Yesterday was the hottest day as yet, bar none, even in the middle of summer. Up to 2 o'clock it looked like rain, but then cleared up, to the intense disappointment of panting humanity.

Politics keep moving, and all parties are waiting for General Roca's mooted visit to Buenos Ayres. Dr. del Valle has again gone to the Provinces, which is a sign of how the wind blows. The most satisfactory thing we have read for some time is the admission by the most fiery of all the political organs, that, 'there is now a chance of the contending parties coming to an arrangement that will be honourable to all.' Viva! One cheer more! Such an announcement from such a quarter means much.

Next Sunday will be the day for the Provincial election of Senators and Deputies. It is tacitly understood that only one party will go to the poll, so there is no danger of a row.

Hermann, the great French Wizard, is coming to the Plate next month. He is well known here, and will be warmly welcomed. There are strong signs of a plethora occurring in the public amusement line next winter.

We saw yesterday for the first time a copy of Pat, the Punch of Dublin. It is decidedly good, and we fancy that if Messrs. Dewy, or Burton, or Jacobsen and Co. were to get it out, they would find a large number of subscribers in the camp. Messrs. Gill and Son, of Upper Sackville St. Dublin are the agents.

We perceive that our highly esteemed colleague the Progreso of Paysandu has started a telephone to keep its editor's sanctum in communication with its printing office. We wish it better luck than that which attended the Standard telephone, which was established with the purely philanthropical idea of saving our subscribers the trouble of mounting the steps to our office in the 'altos.' Somehow, when they had shouted what they had to say, they invariably came up stairs to ask us if we had heard them. Heard them? We verily believe that if there were a thunderstorm raging at one end of that telephone, the man at the other would not hear a bit of it.

The America del Sur announces that Father Vaughan has already obtained the following influential names as Founders in Buenos Ayres of his work of Expiation:—Venerable Dean Dillon, Mrs. Petrona de Lamarca, and Messrs. Michael Carroll, Dr. Lamarca, Felix Frias and Thomas St. George Armstrong, with Dr. Pedro Goyena and Don Candido Montarce as co-operators.

The tiny craft Leon de Caprera was the 'lion' of the Boca on Sunday last. Such prodigious crowds of Italians rushed to see her, at 5 m/c, that the owners will certainly go to Europe (if they do not go to the bottom of the Atlantic) as millionaires. She is a nice little craft, but personally, we should not like to cross the Atlantic in her.

The Heraldo of Sunday published a very good wood cut portrait and short biography of General Bartholomew Mitre.

The Prensa of Belgrano warmly welcomes Dr. Medici, who has just returned there from Europe. No wonder it does so: the first thing Dr Medici did when he reached Belgrano was to subscribe to the Prensa. No welcome could possibly be too warm, or half warm enough, for such a subscriber. All the city families are leaving for town: Dr. Gonzales, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, left last week, and the place will soon be a second Deserted Village as far as fashionable folk are concerned.

In some of the office almanacks in town to-morrow is not marked as a holiday, although it is a strict one, as also Good Friday. We have been requested to mention this, to prevent employers and employed falling into error.

LATEST FROM WEST COAST.

THE 'UNION'S EXPLOIT.

(Telegram to Nacion.)

Santiago, March 21st.

Rear Admiral Riveros telegraphs as follows from Iquique:—

The Union forced the blockade of Arica on the night of 16th. The Huascar and Cochrane entered the port and fought for two hours with the forts, the Union and Manca Capac, retiring without damage or having any men killed or wounded. The Amazonas kept out of range.

About 4½ p.m. the Union steamed out. The Huascar and Amazonas gave chase till midnight, but could not get a single shot at her, she is so fast. At night the Amazonas lost sight of her. Two shells burst on board the Union, but we do not know anything of the effect.

The Blanco Encalada, which was at Ilo, started for Arica on hearing the news, but when I arrived at 5 a.m., I heard what had occurred and saw that the plan I had arranged for capturing the Union in the port had been frustrated.

The Bolivian Council of Ministers has issued the following decree:—

Art. 1. All Bolivians from 15 to 60 years of age must contribute one dollar each for war expenses.

Art. 2. Valetudinarians, paupers and women are exempted.

Art. 3. Landed property holders with incomes of from 50 to 1000 dollars must contribute one dollar, and over 1000, two dollars.

Art. 4. Owners of farms must pay two dollars for 100 dollars income, and over that 4 dollars.

Art. 5. Those who can afford to pay and wont pay shall be styled Traitors, and dealt with according to law.

Art. 6. The Supreme Government will arrange how this tax is to be collected.

The Bolivian National Convention has passed the following Law:—

Art. 1. All the properties belonging to convents and monasteries shall be sold by auction, reserving an eighth part, to feed the nuns and monks.

Art. 2. The Church treasures, such as jewels etc. etc. shall also be sold, excepting the sacred vessels.

Art. 3. Proceeds to go to war purposes, such as buying ships, raising armies etc, and no other.

Art. 4. Priests or laymen who, in the pulpit, the press, or at public meetings, shall oppose this law shall be tried for treason to the country.

The foregoing extreme measures show that Bolivia has not got a copper.

Desertion is going on such a scale in the Bolivian army at Arequipa, that a General Order has been issued branding all soldiers who ask for furlough as Cowards and unworthy of the name of Bolivians!!!

The dash of the Union at Arica was to carry orders to Admiral Montero in reference to junction between the Reserve Army at Lima and the allies at Arica and Tacna, which would make 25,000—30,000 men, but all lamentably deficient in discipline, organization and armament.

A Dull Headache, Costiveness, Low Spirits, and No Appetite, are some of the indications of a Bilious Attack, arising from a Torpid Liver. Dr. Jayne's Sanative Pills will soon restore the Liver to action, drive all symptoms of biliousness from the system, and assist in bringing about a regular action of the bowels.

IRISH RELIEF FUND.

Concordia, March 20, 1880.

E T Mulhall, Esq., Secretary of Irish Relief Fund,

Dear Sir,

The British residents in this part of Entre Rios are very much scattered, and long distances had to be crossed to collect subscriptions; hence the delay that has occurred in returning my list.

The amount collected is 286.75 Bolivian dollars, the equivalent of which $1,215.07 gold, will be handed to you by Mr. Casey, who has kindly taken charge of it. I enclose the lists (originals and copy) and shall be obliged to you if you will publish them.

I am, dear Sir,
Yours faithfully,

Deuda Estrangera	84 gold

The gold market underwent a very sudden change to-day, and some of the greatest political gold bulls have changed round and are now heavy sellers; the cause of all this is the improved tone of politics, the news on 'Change being that everything is at last arranged. What that arrangement exactly is does not appear so clear. The Prensa this morning has a very severe article against Mr Sarmiento whose nomination was made by some of the richest men of Buenos Aires. Still there is a tremendous push made against Mr Sarmiento, and the chances of his success seem to be each day lessening.

Gold opened at 30.40, dropped to 30.30 and closed at 30 35. The cash sales amounted to 76,870, and for the end of the month 411,000 sold, opening at 30.40 and closing at 30.36. The sales of the day amounted to 894,870 pats.

Cedulas rule very firm at 85, and Roads and Bridges at 76½. Treasury Bills were not sold cash but for end of April at 78 and end of May at 79.

Deuda Estrangera for the first time in many months was dealt in 8,000 for end of March at 84 gold. And National Bank Shares free sales on time at 86½.

The Britannia's mails were delivered early. The accounts sales are said to be splendid, but many of the letters give rather gloomy anticipations about war in Europe. In the extract of latest news which we give in another column, will be found all the latest; the papers are filled with articles about Russia and Germany, and the Czar's Ukase giving over complete power in St. Petersburg to a special Committee presided over by an Armenian soldier has astonished all Europe. On every stock exchange in Europe there was a 'stand from under' feeling concerning Russian stocks.

It was rumoured on 'Change that the Heraldo de America had received a telegram from Liverpool, dated 20th March, giving a fall of a farthing in Australian wools, and the Australian clip is said to be splendid.

Mr Henry Tay, shipbroker, has placed the British barque County of Richmond on the berth to load for Boston.

Freights ruled very firm to-day owing to the decided stand of the agents of the Royal Mail who refused to engage for the Minho at anything under 30s and 10 o/o.

We received per Britannia many market reports, but owing to press of copy we must hold them over. We note the sale of some of Prange's wool B. O. in Liverpool at 11½-12¾.

Letters dated Antwerp Feb. 26th say, the Antwerp wool market shows an activity not known for years. Sales during the last 8 days 44oo bales B. A. and 1700 bales Montevidean wool, at prices from 10 to 15 centimes higher than last auction, total stock 10,900 bales, which is very small for this time of year.

Exchange ruled to-day very dull, nothing doing, the rates are quoted at from 49⅜ to 49½, francs 5.22-23.

Respecting the sale of Deuda Estrangera noted to-day, we may remark that 2 days ago a sale was made of two series of Deuda Estrangera at 86 gold, and not reported.

Mr Huss's market circular is out, it gives a very complete summary of the state of things outside and the price of cattle.

Mr Coaker was welcomed on his return from Concordia, he says the heat up there is very severe; also Mr Robertson C E. from Pergamino reports the camps splendid up there.

The gold sales were:—
For cash 76,870 30.40-35-30-35
For March 24th 15,000 30.35
For March 27th 46,000 30.40-35

For April 30th 281,000 30.50-45
For May 31st 55,000 30.55-50
Sales 894,870.

For April 30th 650 shares at 87½-½

Mr Corti, of the eminent banking firm of Jose de Carabassa and Co, took leave of his friends on 'Change to-day; he sails for Europe in the s.s. Salier and takes with him the wishes of the whole market. Mr Corti returns to Europe after an absence of close on 30 years, during which time he made for himself one of the highest positions as a River Plate banker whose judgment and experience are second to none. We wish him a pleasant trip and hope to see him back in recruited health towards the end of the year.

The Nat. Government has most properly extended the time for further subscriptions to the Rio Negro land loan, we give the notice in another column. Although there is some delay about having the land located, we may state that already the cattle have been sent out by Mr Unzue to stock his new estancia at Carhue. This will be the first of Rio Negro lands stocked that we have heard of.

The German s.s. Salier Capt. Hesse, sails on Thursday 25th and takes a mail; the departure of this splendid steamer is the event of the day such is the unusual crowd of friends and residents who leave in her for Europe. The following is the list—

The following important review of the wool trade of 1879 we received from the U. States by last American mail:—

"Wool Trade of 1879.—Messrs Manger and Avery, in their annual circular, say:—For the wool trade the year 1879 has been one of the most prosperous in many years. The outlook at the opening was not auspicious, but the revival of the industries of the country reached the woolen manufacturers finally, and promises to continue for many months to come. Since the panic of 1873 those manufacturers who have survived, have been gradually diversifying and improving their production, reducing the quantity produced, and closing out any surplus at auction; and so cautious had they become that it was almost the general rule for manufacturers to contract with buyers for their goods before making them, and to delay purchases of raw material until they were certain what they could do with it. Goods buyers, meanwhile, had been equally timid, and for ten years the stocks in the Western stores, wholesale and retail, had been reduced from year to year, until no surplus was carried over. The reverses of many years, and particularly the losses of 1878, had made wool dealers extremely conservative; hopes of greatly increased home demand had about disappeared, while the idea was seriously considered by many (so low had prices of wool fallen) that we would soon need to seek a foreign outlet for our wool. During the first six months but little wool was imported, but as the supplies of domestic passed rapidly into consumption, the world was ransacked for substitutes. The importation exceeded the previous year by about thirty million pounds, while our own clip has increased about twenty millions. Manufacturers probably have larger supplies than a year ago, and stocks in Eastern markets are about the same; but the clips in the West have never been so thoroughly cleared up, and it is safe to estimate the increase in consumption of wool the past year at nearly forty millions pounds. Medium wools throughout the year were in greater request, and, but for the importation of about nine million pounds of English fleeces, besides large quantities of Abudia, Lima and East India wools, the demand could not have been supplied. The stocks of this quality of domestic in the markets is very small. The scarcity and comparatively high prices of medium wools finally directed an inquiry to fine grades, when it was found that the demand for fine woolens had increased, and that the improved condition of the country was showing itself in the call for better goods, so that at the close of the year the stock of fine fleeces had been much depleted, and liberal orders were sent to Australia, Cape of Good Hope and S. America for fine wools."

Copy of Analysis by Professor Kyle.

National College, Buenos Ayres, November 29th 1879.

Messrs. M. Forrester & Co., Buenos Ayres.

Gentlemen—I haveat your request made a careful examination of he sample of JEYES'S SHEEP DIP you handed to me on the 18th inst. I find it to be a well made preparation of Phenols and other Tar products, combined with soap, retaining the liquid form and easily mixible with water, from which it does not afterwards separate.

The proportion of active ingredients amounts to rather over 80 per cent it is free from Mineral Poisons and from Caustic Alkalies. In my opinion it is well worth the attention of Sheepfarmers, and will be found by them to be convenient, safe, and I do not doubt, very efficacious as a Sheep Dip. From the readiness with which the preparation can be mixed with cold water it ought to prove most acceptable as a domestic disinfectant, being more convenient than crude Carbolic Acid or the disinfectant powders so frequently employed.

I am, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

JOHN J. J. KYLE, Professor of Chemistry.

"The Sheep Dip is the best that I have ever used. I have not seen a single Maggot on any of the Sheep since we used it. The wool looks beautiful, and to all appearance improved in quality. I feel satisfied it will be an invaluable boon to our large Sheepfarmers in the Colonies, and it only wants to be appreciated."

Muy importante para el Publico.

Poseido de la mayor ansiedad, y con el debido respecto al Publico, apelo muy encarecidamente a toda clase de personas, para que se dignen prestarme su apoyo, dando a conocer como tales las malas y aun peligrosas falsificaciones de mis medicinas, hechas principalmente en Nueva York, de que tengan conocimiento.

Especuladores nada escrupulosos adquieren esta broza a un precio sumamente bajo, y la venden como si fuera mis genuinas pildoras y ungüento, logrando con esta reprobado trafico una enorme ganancia.

Ninguno de los expresados medicamentos son genuinos, si no llevan en el rotulo de cada bote y caja la inscripcion siguiente: Holloway's Pills and Ointment, 533, Oxford Street, London, y el sello del Gobierno Britanico, con las palabras Holloway's Pills and Ointment, grabadas en el.
